

Fund summary

The Fair Oaks Dynamic Credit Fund (the "Fund") offers global access to senior secured corporate loans through investments in Collateralised Loan Obligations ("CLOs"). The Fund is actively managed, without reference to any benchmark, with a strong emphasis on bottom-up fundamental credit analysis. The Fund primarily seeks exposure to investment-grade rated CLO securities on a long-only basis and with no leverage used at fund level.

Commentary

As of the end of January, the portfolio's current gross EUR yield stood at 5.8%, with an expected gross yield to maturity of 6.3%.<sup>3</sup> This compares to yields to maturity of 3.1% for the JP Morgan European BBB Corporate Bond Index and 5.9% for the European High Yield Index.<sup>2</sup>

The trailing 12-month loan default rate increased from 1.2% to 1.3% in the US and from 1.4% to 1.6% in Europe. The distress ratio increased from 7.2% to 7.7% in the US and from 4.4% to 4.7% in Europe.<sup>4</sup>

The uptick in loan distress ratios reflected heightened concerns over AI disruption within the software sector. The weighted average price of the European Leveraged Loan Index declined from 96.7 to 95.9 in January. The most significant price action affected global issuers with cross-border tranches. The European loan market's 10% software exposure compares favourably to 16% in US CLOs of broadly syndicated loans and 19% in US private credit CLOs.<sup>5,6</sup> Within the software sector, we believe risk is highly differentiated with companies offering less complex, more easily replicable products being the most exposed to AI displacement.

The European CLO market opened 2026 solidly with €5.5bn of total issuance, €4.2bn of which was refinancing and reset transactions. This set a January record for refinancing and resets, surpassing the previous high of €2.6bn in 2025.<sup>7</sup> Refinancing activity, particularly, accelerated meaningfully, with 4 deals already launched compared to the total 10 in 2025. Deutsche Bank forecasts €53bn of reset and refinancing activity in 2026, and recent spread tightening suggesting a potential for even higher volumes.<sup>8</sup>

Pronounced tiering between CLO managers persists, driven by an increase in low-priced loan holdings, intensifying focus on collateral quality and track record.<sup>9</sup> In this environment, the fund's high-quality positioning continues to support relative outperformance.

The Fund traded €26mm in January, continuing to prefer new issue transactions over resets given that resets typically offer lower overcollateralization and limited incremental yield. We continue to view BBB CLOs as a compelling investment opportunity with attractive carry and strong structural credit protection.

Key risks

The following risks may affect the Sub-Fund. Full details of all risks the Sub-Fund is exposed to are provided in the Prospectus and KIID.

CLO valuation: The value of a CLO may be affected by a number of factors, including: credit spreads, changes in the performance or the market's perception of the underlying assets backing the security and changes in the market's perception of the adequacy of credit support built into the security's structure to protect against losses.

CLO liquidity: The secondary market for CLOs may not be as liquid as the secondary market for corporate debt. As a result, the Investment Manager could find it more difficult to sell these investments or may be able to sell them only at prices lower than if they were more widely traded. It may be difficult to establish accurate prices for such investments for the purposes of calculating the Sub-fund's Net Asset Value. Therefore, prices realised upon the sale of such investments may be lower than the prices used in calculating the Sub-fund's Net Asset Value.

Dependence on Managers of CLOs: The performance of the Sub-fund's investments in CLOs will depend in part upon the performance and operational effectiveness of the managers of the CLOs.
